

Cornet cave

Close to Stensserum a boulder cluster developed in 2022. All boulders brushed and climbed by Stefan Rasmussen. Close parking just by the boulders and the cave facing north make this a shady place. Rock is well featured and solid. The place got its name from an old rumor regarding a deserted officer from the Swedish army hiding under the boulder for a year. The boulder have superior landings, some of the problems are high. Location on map. This is a new place keep low profile and behave;
