

Rummablocken 1

Rummablocken and the surrounding boulders offer a compact and varied bouldering area, well suited for a first visit to Västervik. The granite is rough and technical, with a good mix of slabs, edges, and steeper features.

There are several established problems in the area, but also many open projects, making it an interesting spot for climbers who enjoy exploring and developing new lines. The boulders are spread out within short walking distance, allowing for efficient sessions and easy movement between problems.

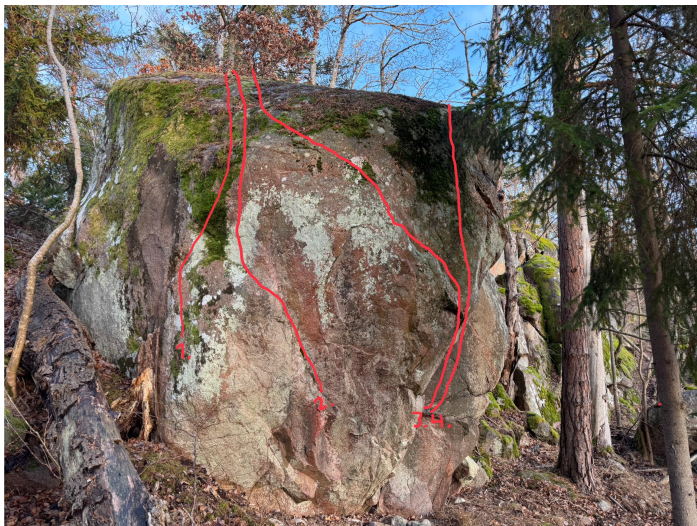

Rummablocken is a solid starting point if you want to get a feel for the local rock and the character of Västervik bouldering.
